VOL. XXX. NO. 52.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1912.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

TREE PLANTING STARTED.

UNDER DIRECTION OF THE SHADE TREE COMMISSION.

Nearly Four Hundred Trees Will be Set Out - Permit for Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument Granted - To Begin War on Elm Beetle.

The Shade Tree Commissioners, Charles A. Hungerford, Walter Ellor and John A. Rassbach, held a special meeting Monday night for the purpose of hearing objections to the ordinance adopted by the commission for planting shade trees in a number of streets in the town.

There were no objections to the ordinance and on Wednesday morning the work of planting trees was started. In accordance with the provisions of the ordinance nearly four hundred trees will be set out. They are Norway maples and Orientals.

The streets in which there will be a complete setting out of trees from end to end are Evergreen avenue, Llewellyn avenue, Clearfield avenue, Ella street, Grace street and Delaware avenue. On some other streets some vacancies will be filled in to complete a line of trees.

The cost of the trees will be assessed against property benefited in the same manner that other improvements are assessed.

The commissioners have in hand applications for over five hundred trees that property owners in different parts of the town want, but as tree-planting time is limited the commissioners will not be able to act on the applications this season.

The commission granted a permit to the Monument Committee of the Centennial Celebration Committee for placing the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument on the triangular section of park land at the junction of Broad and Franklin streets. The permit was originally applied for to the Town Council and that body acquiesced, but at the same time informed the committee that as the care of public grounds had been turned over to the Shade Tree Commission, it would be necessary to apply to that body for a permit.

A problem that has been discussed off and on for nearly two score years by various civic bodies was taken up by the Shade Tree Commissioners Monday night. The question was the advisability of placing seats along the paths of the public grounds, known as the "green." The experiences of the past in this line of work were recounted. Final action on the question was deferred until the May meeting of the commission.

It was decided to begin an early war against the elm beetle by beginning spraying work about the middle of May, when the foliage will be far enough advanced to make the work effective. The commission invites the co-operation of all citizens in the elm beetle war, and will be pleased to give any needed information to owners of trees in private grounds who want to protect their elms.

The secretary of the commission reported that in accordance with a resolution passed at a previous meeting, the flag pole on the green had been painted.

Delightful Entertainment.

A very delightful entertainment, under the auspices of the music committee of Christ Church, this town and Glen Ridge, was given at the Parish House on Tuesday evening.

Prof. Baker, the versatile impersonator and ventriloquist, amused the choir boys and young people of the church, with his magic and humorous ventriloquism for nearly two hours.

Miss Justine Roberts, the clever entertainer, recited several extremely amusing comic dialect stories and monologues.

Miss Helen Roberts, vocal soloist, supported Prof. Baker, and sang several selections. She has a very sweet voice, and one that is very pleasing. The trio is certainly a good combination and one that commands one's interest from first to last.

Refreshments and dancing then followed, which was enjoyed by all of the young people. The committee were congratulated on the success of the entertainment. This is the first of a series to be given.

Farm Hands Asleep in Gutter.

Joseph Morasky and Joseph Ruskie, each twenty-one years old, and farm hands from Brookdale, were arrested at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, sleeping in the gutter at Prospect street and Mountview avenue, Nutley. When taken to police headquarters they said they had gone to Passaic the night before and got lost returning. Ruskie had a door-knob in his pocket, fashioned into a slungshot, with a handle made of wire. He was fined $2.50 for carrying concealed weapons. His companion was released.

Won Mitchell Fellowship.

Randolph S. Bourne of Columbia University, Class 1912, has been appointed to the William Mitchell Fellowship. The prize is given annually to a member of the graduating class who purposes entering upon a course of advanced study in letters or science.

It entitles the recipient to the net income of a fund of $10,000 bequeathed by Benjamin D. Sullivan.

White-Scheffler.

Miss Marion Rose Scheffler and Clinton Morris White, both of Glen Ridge, were married Tuesday evening by the Rev. Dr. Clarence Hall Wilson, pastor of the Glen Ridge Congregational Church.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Scheffler, 293 Ridgewood avenue.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Lucile Scheffler, as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Harris as bridesmaid. The flower girl was Miss Marjorie Earle of Montclair. Clarence Winchester White of Boston was his brother's best man and the ushers were John R. Brandon of New York, William Cuthbert Brandon of Montclair, Robert Mitchell of Glen Ridge and William Holt of this town.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, was gowned in white satin charmeuse trimmed with hand embroidery and Carrickmacross lace. Her court train was heavily embroidered, while her tulle veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of pearls with a frill of Carrickmacross lace. Her shower bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid were gowned alike in yellow charmeuse draped with bordered chiffon and trimmed with shadow lace. They carried arm bouquets of yellow and white marguerites. They wore the bride's gift, which were gold bracelets. Directly preceding the bride and strewn her way with rose leaves was the flower girl in white lingerie frock.

The stairway and hall were bowered of apple blossoms and southern smilax, while the ceremony room was banked with tropical plants and yellow and white blooms. The color scheme in the dining-room was yellow, carried out in jonquils, which formed a plateau in the center of the table. The table for the bridal party was set in the conservatory and was decorated with pink sweet peas and apple blossoms.

A toast was drunk and cheer given by several of the members of the Essex Troop, of which Mr. White is a member.

Mrs. Scheffler, mother of the bride, was gowned in lavender charmeuse with pearl trimming, and Mrs. White, mother of the bridegroom, wore black thread lace over white satin tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. White left on a wedding trip, after which they will return to Glen Ridge for a short time before leaving for their summer home at Northport, Long Island.

Taft Club Organized.

The organization of the William Howard Taft Club of Bloomfield was effected Thursday night at a meeting held in Essex County Building and Loan Hall. There was a large attendance and many names were added to the membership roll of the club. Addresses were made by Benjamin F. Blair of Glen Ridge, Mayor William Hauser, Freeholder Seymour P. Gilbert, John A. Lawrence, James M. Walker and others.

The officers elected were: Theodore H. Ward, honorary president; Benjamin Haskell, acting president; Frank A. Osmun, secretary; John M. Hague, treasurer.

The vice-presidents chosen were Clarence E. Van Winkle, Barclay Kent, John A. Winters, Howard M. Thomas, Frederick Sadler, Wilbur M. Brokaw, Matthew McCordran, J. A. Fredericks, Charles H. Hulpenny and David W. Miller.

Scared Chicken Thieves.

Guinea hens, owned by Dr. Brown Morgan of Benson street, by their shrill cries early Monday morning saved a number of chicken coops in the neighborhood from being looted. As it was, Samuel Fisk lost thirteen Plymouth Rocks, and he hopes the number will prove to be a Jonah to the thieves.

The feathered "watchdogs" awoke the residents, and two men were seen scooting across the fields toward the Erie railroad tracks. It is believed that robbery by the wholesale was contemplated, as a number of feed bags were found and it is thought the thieves had a wagon in waiting.

Masonic Ladies' Night.

A ladies' night will be held in Central Hall on Wednesday night, under the auspices of Bloomfield Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., when the eleventh hundred stated communication of the lodge will be celebrated.

The committee of arrangements has prepared a pleasing musical program, and also secured the services of a highly talented humorist.

Refreshments will be served during the evening and the evening's entertainment will conclude with a social dance.

Discussed School Finances.

For furnishing the new $180,000 High School and grading the grounds, the Board of Estimate on Monday night voted to certify to the council an appropriation of $37,000. The amount was agreed upon after a session that lasted until midnight.

The remodeling of the present High School building, recommended by the Board of Education at a cost not to exceed $22,000, will be considered at an adjourned meeting of the Board of Estimate Monday night.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION

Town's Application to Join Passaic Valley Sewer Project Before the Commissioners - Important Legal Points Raised - Answer Expected Next Week.

The formal application from the Town Council of this town to the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission to permit the town to join in the Passaic river valley trunk sewer project, was received and discussed at a meeting of the commissioners held on Tuesday, and was referred to Adrian Riker, counsel for the commission, for an opinion on some of the questions raised in connection with the application.

The Town Council's application was provisional in that it named the basis of rates that should be applied in determining the cost to the town for its share of the sewer construction work, and it also provided that an assurance be given by the commissioners that in the event of any more favorable concessions being made to Orange, East Orange or Montclair, the same concessions should apply to this town.

The Sewerage Commission is not now in a position to deal with this town as an original party to the contract.

The belated application presents a new situation for the commission. It will be necessary for the town to obtain the consent of the other municipalities which have already signed the contract. The agreement by which Bloomfield might be admitted to the project will be of a special character between the commission and other municipalities on the one side, and the town on the other.

Another point discussed was that the application does not clearly show certain things the commission is desirous of knowing. For instance, it does not set forth clearly whether Bloomfield's proposal to enter into a contract means that it intends to deliver its sewage at the trunk sewer or have the commission construct a branch. At present Bloomfield, Orange, East Orange and Glen Ridge use a joint sewer.

Another point upon which further consideration must be given is as to what the probable cost to Bloomfield will be in joining at this time.

There are several points about a resolution adopted by the Town Council, a copy of which was submitted to the commission, that will be made the subject of conferences within the next few days, at which it is expected the necessary arrangements will be concluded for the acceptance of the town's proposition.

The Town Council's resolution was provisional. The councilmen, in declaring in favor of the trunk sewer, insisted that the same concessions be allowed to Bloomfield that may be made to Montclair, Orange, Glen Ridge or East Orange in the event of their entering into the contract.

Centennial Celebration.

The Finance Committee of the Centennial Celebration Committee will meet next Thursday night, when reports from collectors will be received, and if the desired sum has been pledged in a manner to insure the committee that it can be depended upon, the general committee will be informed of the situation, and the various sub-committees can frame their plans in accordance to the appropriation allowed them from the general fund. Some committees like the carnival committees, will have the benefit of the expenditure that will be made by the various lodges and societies in fitting out for their part in the carnival.

The members of the monument committee held a meeting on Saturday afternoon and picked out the spot for placing the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument base.

There is a busy time among the school children, making various articles of decoration that will be used in the floats and other spectacular features of the school programme of the celebration.

It is only about six weeks now to the week of celebration, and the committees will have to move rapidly in the perfection of their plans.

Carried by Wind.

While walking along Glenwood avenue, near Henry street, Tuesday, Malcolm Walker, 16 years old, was blown from the sidewalk a distance of fifteen feet into a lot owned by the American Mailboxes Company. He came within a few feet of landing in Toney's Brook. Walker escaped with a few slight bruises.

The wind blew down signboards and limbs from trees. A large elm tree was blown down in Hinrichs place, carrying electric light and telephone wires with it.

To Help Monument Fund.

John J. H. Love Camp, No. 12, Sons of Veterans of New Jersey, has appointed a committee of its members to raise money to be applied to the construction fund for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument to be erected in this town. All sons and grandsons of veterans are requested to assist in the work. John N. Delhagan, 10 Broad street, is treasurer of the committee and will receive subscriptions.

Simms Magneto Plant.

It is rumored that the General Electric Company has bought the Simms Magneto factory, adjoining the Sprague Works, also owned by the General Electric, and the Simms plant will be added to the Sprague Works.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Showing Financial Condition of the Town at Close of 1911 - Value of Town Properties and Liabilities Against Them - Large Amount of Town Bonds.

Town Auditor Samuel M. Fisk in his annual report to the Town Council says: "All the receipts of the collector's office for the year 1911, have been examined including general taxes, assessments, collections, water receipts and the unpaid taxes and assessments, verified.

"All the receipts of the town clerk's office have been examined and verified. "The receipts of the town treasurer from the collector's office, the town clerk's office and various other sources have been examined and verified, as have also the disbursements authorized by warrant.

"The receipts and disbursements of the Board of Health, Shade Tree Commission and Sinking Fund Commission have also been examined and found correct.

"The balance sheet and supporting schedule presented, together with the reports of the different officials, give full detailed figures of the town's finances.

"My predecessor," says Mr. Fisk, "when making his report for 1910 commented on the amount of absolutely necessary additional work he and his assistants were called upon to do to bring the accounts and the books down to a real basis to work on. To get a proper basis for 1911 figures, your auditors were again compelled to do considerable work which should have been done from month to month by the town officers.

"This is not a criticism on any of the officials, the condition being due largely to an insufficiency of assistants in the various departments.

"It is impolitic to suggest any additions to the present system, as the present force is inadequate to handle matters as now run.

"Therefore, I only reiterate the recommendation of my predecessor in his report for 1910, and strongly advise that a bookkeeping department be established, possibly under supervision of the Town Clerk."

In a comment on the water department, Mr. Fisk says: "Notwithstanding a reduction in water rates to consumers, and a reserve for depreciation in plant, there was a profit transferred to surplus account of $3,151.11 for the year.

The town assets, as shown in the report, amount to $1,767,501.49, divided as follows: Town properties, such as schools, firehouses, parks, roads, sewer, poor house and lots owned by the town, $1,146,788.76; water supply plant, $151,150.00; cash, $40,610.43; accounts receivable, $230,222.10; improvements under construction, $87,693.60; Sinking Fund Commission, $10,941.75; Board of Health, $740.00.

The town liabilities amount to $1,043,472.22, as follows: Bills payable, $278,177.87; accounts payable, $13,610.85; accrued interest, $11,783.22; bonds, $694,500; balance of water bond premium, $75,000; firehouse bonds, $25,000; water bonds, $105,000; school bonds, $374,500; park bonds, $60,000. With the exception of the union outlet sewer bonds all the bonds bear 4 per cent. Bonds to the amount of $7,300 were redeemed during 1911.

The value of the ten school houses in the town is given at $532,024.16; the fire houses, $20,225, and the parks, $120,660.67.

The $694,500 of bonds outstanding are divided as follows: Union outlet sewer bonds, $5,000; general sewer bonds, $50,000; street improvement bonds, $75,000; firehouse bonds, $25,000; water bonds, $105,000; school bonds, $374,500; park bonds, $60,000. With the exception of the union outlet sewer bonds all the bonds bear 4 per cent. Bonds to the amount of $7,300 were redeemed during 1911.

The bills payable are for the following purposes: Schools, $57,450; town improvements, $18,024; railroad improvements, $6,702.57; water department, $28,000.

The report shows town notes outstanding with the Bloomfield National Bank, $15,000.85; with Bloomfield Trust Company, $123,878.82.

A subsidiary report, made by the auditor, deals exclusively with the water department, and will be noted later.

Burglarized Hotel.

Although a vicious watch dog was kept in the building, burglars Sunday night or early Monday morning entered the Bloomfield Hotel, 699 Bloomfield avenue, and got away with $100 in cash and several packs of cigarettes. Most of the cash taken was made up of old greenbacks, which the proprietor, Arthur Leuthausser, Sr., had stored away in a drawer of his desk.

The intruders entered by way of a cellar window, getting to the first floor through a trap door. It was in this room that the dog was asleep, but the canine did not create any disturbance, and the burglars had everything their own way.

Mr. Leuthausser believes the robbery was committed by those familiar with the premises.

Before beginning operations, it is believed the intruders opened three windows in the bar-room and one in the bowling alley, adjoining, to make the avenue of escape easy.

If your feet hurt you go to Dr. C. J. Neff, Surgeon Chiroprapist, Trust Company building.—Adv.

Rev. Dr. Clarence Hall Wilson, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Elliot Wilber Brown of Northfield, Mass., a former pastor. Sidney C. Huxam, organist of the church, played during the ceremony, and as the guests were entering the church two violin solos were given by Miss Virginia Bramblet of Carlisle, Ky., a friend of the bride, who afterward joined the bride's party at the altar.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Luther C. Williams of East Orange, and the maid of honor Miss Marion Clarkson of Burlington, Vt. The bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Elliot of Montclair, Miss Marie Overstreet of New York, Miss Alice Sherman of Glen Ridge, Miss Lillian Jones of Brooklyn, Miss Eleanor Rittenhouse of Montclair and Miss Dorothy Betts of Brooklyn. The church was decorated with lavender hydrangeas, Easter lilies and palms. The bridesmaids entered from each side of the altar, passing down the side aisles to meet the rest of the wedding party at the door. The bridal procession, led by the ushers, then proceeded up the middle aisle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white crepe meteor, trimmed with rose point lace, with a court train with a panel of point d'esprit applique. Her veil was arranged in cap fashion with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The bride wore the gift of the bridegroom, an opal and diamond cluster ring.

The matron of honor wore her wedding gown of white satin, and the maid of honor was gowned in lavender charmeuse draped with white silk net. The bridesmaids' gowns were alike, of cream satin charmeuse, draped with lavender chiffon, and a coat effect carried out in shadow lace. They carried bouquets of lavender sweet peas, with orchid centres. After the ceremony a reception was held in Assembly Hall. Beside the bride the party in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Skeele, parents of the bride. Mrs. Skeele was gowned in pearl gray satin charmeuse.

Schools and Mrs. Harris will be at home after June 15 at 64 Essex avenue, Glen Ridge.

Eddy-Jordan.

George W. Eddy of Frenchtown and Miss Ida Louise Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Jordan of Glen Ridge, were married in the Glen Ridge Congregational Church on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Dr. Clarence Hall Wilson, pastor of the church. The church was decorated with palms, Southern smilax and Easter lilies. Only immediate relatives and intimate friends attended the ceremony. Miss Helen Eddy of Frenchtown, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Muriel Snyder of Jersey City and Miss Elsie Mittag of Park Ridge. The flower girls wore white lingerie frocks over pink and carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated with smilax, lilies of the valley and calla lilies. The bride's mother wore a gown of green crepe meteor draped with black chiffon and the bridegroom's mother was attired in black crepe de chine. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Eddy will reside in Frenchtown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan entertained the bridal party at dinner Monday night, and the guests were Miss Helen Eddy of Frenchtown, Miss Muriel Snyder of Jersey City, Miss Elsie Mittag of Park Ridge, George Jordan, Alfred Bahrenburg of Forest Hill, William Britton of Trenton, Roscoe Nash of Frenchtown, and Ryman Bloom of Newark.

Montgomery Troop Hike.

The Boy Scouts of Montgomery Troop, Soho, went on a hike last Saturday night to Crow Hill, this town. They ate supper in the woods and passed second class requirements. They played several games in one of which the second class scouts went out and offered a prize to any "tenderfoot" who caught him.

BASEBALL.

BLOOMFIELD BASEBALL CLUB WILL OPEN ITS SEASON SATURDAY, MAY 4.

Game Will be Played on Morris Park Grounds - Worthington Manufacturers' Team Will be Opponents - All the Old Stars Retained.

The Bloomfield Baseball Club will open the season on Saturday, May 4, on the Morris Park grounds, Bloomfield avenue, at the Newark city line. The opposing team will be the Worthingtons, champions of the Manufacturers' League.

The patrons of the Bloomfield Baseball Club will again have the opportunity of seeing their favorites cavorting about the diamond and witnessing some of the old-time battles which brought the Williamson Oval into the baseball limelight.

The fans have been asking the questions: "Are we to have a team this year? If so, where are the grounds to be located?"

The fact that the national game is to be kept alive in the town is almost entirely due to the players themselves, who have banded together with several citizens and decided to take a chance by opening up on May 4.

Whether the club, under its present conditions, will be sustained is entirely up to the people who patronize this, up to the people who patronize this the greatest of all sports.

It is understood, on good authority, that only a few games will have to be played at Morris Park, for suitable grounds within the boundaries of the town, centrally located, will be secured and ready for use by July at the latest.

All the stars of the old team, with one exception, will again get in the game.

"Jack" Hanily, with his deceptive shoots, will be on the mound, and the old reliable "Bill" Burdette will receive.

On Saturday, May 11, the Bloomfield Club will be the opponents of the crack Caldwell team at Caldwell, and as this will be the opening game for the "hill-toppers" a great contest is looked for. On Saturday, May 18, the Caldwell will give the locals a return game at Morris Park.

As has been said, whether our people will patronize the games to be played at Morris Park will have a great bearing on the future of the sport in the town. The boys should be backed up. Surely those who have enjoyed their half-holidays during the summer months at the old oval will again rally to the club's support and give the players the glad hand by filling Morris Park to its utmost capacity.

No subscriptions will be solicited, but any who desire to assist financially in keeping the club together may communicate with Messrs. Raymond Davis, John M. Hague or C. E. Van Winkle.

The Llewellyn A. C., an amateur baseball club, whose players average fifteen years of age, has organized with the following players: Alexander Scheill, catcher; Max Money, pitcher; Frank Schmidt, shortstop; Charles Smith, first base; William Maxwell, second base; Harry Hendrickson, third base; George Hendrickson, right field; William Zimmerman, centre field; Wm. Bender, left field; Augustus Frazer, mascot.

The Beta Theta Fraternity has organized a baseball team which will enter the Interclub League of Newark. Beta Theta will play their home games at Watessing Park. The season will open May 4.

The Caldwell Athletic Club will open the season on May 11 on the Academy road grounds, playing a game with the Bloomfield Baseball Club. A return game will be played the following week at the Morris Park grounds on Bloomfield avenue, this town. The Bloomfield club has reorganized with John M. Hague as manager, and it is hoped that the unpleasantness that arose last year, causing the cancelling of a number of games, will not occur this season. The opposing pitchers in the opening game will be Hipfel for Caldwell, and Hanily for Bloomfield.

The fact that the most popular games last year were between Bloomfield and Caldwell assures a large crowd at the opening game, and the Caldwell A. C. is very fortunate in having the first game played on the home grounds.

The Caldwell Athletics will probably organize for practice on the Academy grounds on Saturday, May 4.

The Broughton Club defeated the Hustler A. C. of Newark Saturday afternoon in a well played contest. The Hustlers drove in four runs in the first two innings, but by good hitting and base running the Broughtons managed to take the lead in the third. More good hitting scored three runs in the fourth. The score: Hustler A. C. 3 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 5 Broughtons 1 1 3 3 1 0 0 0 7 9

Inhoff Plans Submitted.

Plans and other data in regard to the proposed Inhoff sewage disposal plant at Soho, which had been prepared by Engineers Herring and Gregory of New York, were presented to the Montclair Town Council Monday night by Town Clerk Trippett. The clerk was ordered to have a number of duplicates of both plans and maps made, at least one copy for each member of council. There was no examination of or comment on the papers.
